

21st International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL 2026)
TLR WORKSHOP PROGRAMME
Trustworthy Legal Reasoning: From Generative AI to Verified Legal Intelligence
June 12, 2026, Singapore Management University, Singapore | All times are Singapore Time (SGT, UTC+8)

Time	Session/Activities
8:30-8:40	Opening remarks and introduction Ling Hu, Peking University Workshop aims, format and housekeeping
8:40-10:15	Session 1 - From Benchmarking to Model Design for Trustworthy Legal Reasoning Common theme: How trustworthy legal reasoning can be measured through authority-aware, capability-based and citation-sensitive benchmarks, and how model design, generation procedures and data pipelines shape the quality and reliability of legal reasoning outputs. Chair : Sirui Han Discussants: Ling Hu, Ningyao Ye Presentation and discussion • Paper 1 A Benchmark for Authority-Aware LLM Reasoning in PRC Tax Law Bai Lijie (Fudan University Law School) (in person) • Paper 2 PubLawgic: A Capability Benchmark for Public Legal Services and Domain Skill Engineering for Trustworthy Legal Reasoning Tian Yuxin (Peking University Law School) (online) • Paper 3 CaseCite: A Judicial-Pincite Benchmark for Evaluating LLMs on Legal Judgment Analysis Troy Song (Herbert Smith Freehills Kramer); Rocky Li (The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology) (online) • Paper 4 Unilaw-RL: A Large Language Model for Legal Reasoning with Reinforcement Learning and Iterative Inference Shen Xuli (Fudan University School of Computer Science) (in person) • Paper 5 All About Taste: Why Legal Answer Generation Closes Too Early Li Ruoxi (The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology) (online) • Paper 6 A Multi-Agent Framework for Synthetic Legal Data Generation for Privacy Preservation Using Large Language Models Aniket Deroy (University of Delhi) (online) Session discussion and transition – Open questions and transition
10:15-10:35	Tea break
10:35-11:25	Session 2 – Trust, Disclosure and Litigation Practice Common theme: How legal AI should remain contestable, explainable and professionally accountable in litigation and human-facing legal contexts. Chair: Ling Hu Discussants: Donghui Liu, Tianke Ban Presentation and discussion • Paper 7 Toward Trustworthy AI in Litigation Practice: Observations on Artificial Intelligence and Large Language Models from the Perspective of a Litigation-Oriented Law Firm Wu Chunyu (National Chengchi University) (in person) • Paper 8 Disclosure Without Consensus: A Dignity-Tiered Protocol for Contestable Legal AI Liu Ben (Shanghai Jiao Tong University) (in person)

	• Paper 9 Toxic or Legitimate Romance
--	--

TLR WORKSHOP PROGRAMME (continued)

	Gu Xinyuan (Shanghai Jiao Tong University) (online) Session discussion and transition – Open questions and transition
11:25-12:15	Session 3 – Rights Protection, Governance and Market Accountability Common theme: How AI-related legal harms can be governed through privacy, competition and copyright accountability frameworks. Chair: Tianke Ban Discussants: Ningyao Ye, Donghui Liu Presentation and discussion • Paper 10 Deepfakes in the Courtroom: Evidentiary Challenges and Countermeasures Hou Bubu (The University of Hong Kong) (online) • Paper 11 A Study on the Regulatory Paths for AI Models under Anti-Unfair Competition Law Zhang Jiayi (Shanghai Jiao Tong University) (online) • Paper 12 Why AIGC Copyright Needs Incentive-Based Public Notice Mechanism Instead of Proof of Control Zhou Ying (University of Macau) (online) Session discussion and transition – Open questions and transition
12:15-12:30	Closing remarks Sirui Han, The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology Key takeaways, next steps and acknowledgements

Presentation Guidelines

- Each paper will be given 5 minutes for presentation.
- All papers in the same session will be presented back-to-back.
- A unified discussion and Q&A session will be held after all papers in that session have been presented.
- Session chairs may adjust the timing of discussion as needed to keep the overall schedule on track.